Groundbreaking Held At Stevens Memorial Church For New Building

Stevens Memorial Baptist Church, located at 2913 Church Street Extension, held the formal groundbreaking for the erection of its new sanctuary and educational building on October 17. Following the morning worship service at the church, the congregation marched the 300 feet to the wooded lot which is the new church site.

The ceremony was opened with prayer after which the turning of the soil followed. There were six present at this groundbreaking who were also present when the first church structure was begun October of 1923. These are Mrs. A. Gunter, Sam Alvis, H. H. Sutton, Mrs. H. H. Sutton, Mrs. Jack Caudle, and E. E. Sutton.

The contractor, W. F. Allred, has assured the church that construction will begin immediately.

Proximity Y's Men To Hold Carnival

Proximity Y's Men are sponsoring the Halloween Carnival to be at Proximity YMCA tomorrow night. The event will open at 7 p.m. Admission will be free of charge.

Among the many attractions will be the wheel of fortune, rings, darts, spook house, old time movies, cake walk, fish pond, slaughter house and music.

A concession stand will take care of refreshment needs.

Such carnivals in the past have proved quite successful in giving both young and old alike wholesome entertainment which is organized and supervised.

Parents are urged to bring their children to this carnival for an evening free of danger and worry.

Hats Found

Owners of hats at the Greensboro Tobacco Warehouse following the 25-Year Service Award dinner on October 9 may call for them at the Personnel Office.

Proximity Plant Safety Committee Has Dinner Meeting

Members of the Proximity Plant Safety Committee met at Camp Herman last Saturday night for an evening of good food and fellowship and an opportunity to sum up the results of a year's activity. General Manager Edwin Holt made the principal address while Vice President Clarence Cone and Superintendent John Scott made appropriate remarks. Assistant Superintendent Raymond Kincaid, who acted as chairman of the Safety Committee and as toastmaster for the evening, also made a short talk.

Entertainment consisted of popular melodies sung by the Cone Maids and boogie woogie played by Doug and Jimmy Kincaid. Wade Jenkins read a report said to have been made by certain unnamed members of the committee who had inspected some of the hobbies, characteristics, or oddities of their fellow members. Cleo Honeycutt, assistant superintendent of White Oak Plant, and Gordon Williams were recognized, and each made a brief statement.

Mr. Holt complimented the committee on the excellent results they had achieved in helping to make the plant cleaner and safer. He remarked about the fine cooperation by departments and plant management in accepting committee recommendations for correcting hazards and improving housekeeping. "However," he told them, "we are now at the point where we must make the individual man and woman think constantly of safety." He went on to point out that it takes men (or women) to have accidents and that only when people are constantly thinking of safety will we have a really fine accident prevention record. He ended his talk with the hope that at the end of another year Proximity Plant would have a greatly improved safety record and asked those present to carry their enthusiasm for safety back to their jobs.

The steak supper was prepared and served under the direction of Gustav Ziprik and members of the YMCA staff.

"Overfly" Wins 240-Mile Pigeon Race

Piedmont Racing Pigeon Club's race from Washington, October 24 was won by J. H. McDaniel's "Overfly" at speed of 1,089.85 yards per minute. Second place went to J. N. Horlick's "Silk Run" with speed of 1,089.43 yards per minute, and in third place was "Northern Lady" at 1,089.30 also flown by J. H. McDaniel.

The next top places were won by the following:

Fourth, J. N. Horlick, 1,084.33 yards per minute; fifth, Bill Needham, 1,083.58; sixth, Claude Wyrick and Joe Parrish, 1,071.47; seventh, Arnold Tidwell, 1,070.16; eighth, Clarence Barts and Clyde Hunt, 1,067.42; ninth, Harry Schwartz, 1,066.38; tenth, Charlie Hartsook, 1,063.

A total of 54 birds from 10 lofts competed.

The last race of the season will be flown October 31, from Washington. Each member will be allowed three entries.

Cone Toastmasters Apply For Charter

Cone Toastmasters Club has applied to the International Toastmasters Club for its charter. The necessary 20 members have signed up and plans are made for the charter night program which will be in a few weeks.

At the last meeting, James Jarrett was toastmaster; Wade Wylie acted as topic master, and Harold Carpenter was evaluator. Speakers were: Norman Pinkerton, Wallace Brown, Merlin Beaver, and Howard Pickard. For the meeting November 1 speakers will be Garland Seabolt, Arthur Rollins, Harold Carpenter, and Bernard Sizemore.

Visitors at the past meeting were Howard Garner, Loy Bradford, Paul Lamm, John Shott, and Gordon Williams.

MELON GROWERS—Jay Duncan Harviel, standing, and Ernest Jack Harviel, seated in wagon holding their dog, Lady, were the proud producers of some very fine watermelons this past season. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jay C. Harviel of Reidsville. Their mother is the registered nurse who heads the Edna Plant First Aid.

Halloween Carnival To Be At White Oak Y

The doors of the White Oak Y.M.C.A. will swing open early tomorrow night to permit the entrance of the many spooks, witches, goblins, and black cats who will be attending the White Oak Y's Men's Halloween Carnival. It is expected the Y will be host to one of the largest arrays of little spooks ever assembled in that building. All parents in the Cone Mills area are invited to send or accompany their children to this gala affair.

The Y staff and the Y's Men will provide many prize winning games and side shows for the entertainment of the kids. Prizes will also be given for the best costumes.

A big prize awaits the one who successfully climbs the greasy pole. Other features will be the dart game, basketball, and milk bottle throw. For the young angler, the ever popular fish pond will be available. Experts in the field of fortune telling and weight guessing will be on hand to mystify the young and the younger. A concession stand has been erected for the sale of hot dogs and soft drinks.

These are only a few of the many attractions to be featured at the Halloween Carnival at the White Oak YMCA tomorrow night. The Y's Men extend an invitation to the entire family to be their guests for an evening of clean recreation and wholesome entertainment.

Seven Depts. Give 100% To Chest Drive

Seven departments of Cone Mills have contributed 100 percent to the Community Chest drive which started last Friday and will end today. Since all reports were not in at press time, it is expected that others will have a similar record.

The departments reporting 100 percent donations are Waring and Slashing, second shift, Revolution Flannel Plant; Filter Plant; White Oak Supply Department, trucking and dyeing; Knox's Crew, and Guilford Products.

A report of the total collections here at Cone Mills will appear in next week's Textorian.

It is expected that contributions will reach the goal if each employee gives as much or more than he did in last year's drive.

Employees were encouraged in using the payroll deduction plan this year since payment in this manner is more convenient.

The drive was organized at Cone Mills by George Hamer of the Personnel Department and carried out by 250 solicitors including supervisors and employees.

Give to the Community Chest.

Mrs. Steele Resigns Effective November 1

Mrs. Lowell Steele, for the past 11 years connected with Cone Mills, has tendered her resignation, effective November 1. Mrs. Steele came here on January 4, 1944 as welfare case worker for the Revolution community. A year ago, when the welfare work was merged with that of Cone Memorial YMCA, Mrs. Steele was transferred to that staff but retained her connection with the Revolution community.

Her work included sponsoring of the Revolution Community Club in which she took personal interest and an active part.

Residents of the community state that she endeared herself to them through her home visitations, and that in time of sickness or bereavement she was always a source of comfort and help.

In addition to guidance and counseling she promoted home beautification and the growth of vegetable gardens in the community. In season, she operated a canning center in the welfare building.

She headed the Revolution Baby Clinic, and when she transferred to Cone Memorial YMCA last year, that phase of her work was taken over by the Greensboro Nursing Council.

H. M. Angel, secretary of Cone Memorial YMCA, stated that Mrs. Steele had been most cooperative in working with the women and girls' division of the YMCA. "It is with reluctance that we accept her resignation," he declared.

Mrs. Steele lives at 907 Courtland Street and has one daughter, Mrs. Bernard Cohen of Boston, Mass., the former Hazel Virginia Steele.

Improvement

The nation's traffic toll is coming down!

The National Safety Council reports that for seven straight months, beginning in January of 1954, the monthly traffic death toll was lower than for the same month in 1953.

An interesting and encouraging feature of this good news to business and industrial people is that the Council attributes part of the traffic improvement to the increased effort business and industry are making to extend their safety know-how to the entire community. "More and more," says the Council, "the leadership which has brought about such splendid progress in safety on the job is being extended beyond the factory gate to the whole community, as a public service."

The Council also attributes an important part of the traffic safety improvement to the Stop Accidents Campaign which has been conducted by The Advertising Council for nine years in cooperation with the National Safety Council.

Every employee and every official of this company can play an important part in this big effort to bring down the traffic toll. Drive courteously, sensibly, skillfully. Carry into your car the safety practices you have learned on the job. Remember—the life you save may be your own!

100 Percent for YMCA

Guilford Products Plant has 100 percent membership in Cone Memorial YMCA. Report on this was not received with other groups mentioned recently in connection with the membership campaign.

Card of Thanks

The family of J. M. Shelton, 1200 Phipps Avenue, wish to express their gratitude to their friends for their many kind expressions of sympathy during his recent illness and death. Mr. Shelton was employed at the White Oak Plant.

Too Successful

Brunswick stew made by Cone Post 386 American Legion last Saturday was sold out within a few hours.

Legionnaires offer their apologies to those who purchased tickets and were not furnished any stew. Although their money was refunded, the legionnaires realize that this was an inconvenience.

Red Cross Blood Program Announced

Patrick H. Winston and Mrs. Francis X. Berry, Co-Chairman of the Red Cross Blood Program Committee announced dates, locations and sponsors for the six Mobile Units to Greensboro-Guilford County between now and January 1st.

"With the Mobile Unit coming every three weeks to procure blood, so that patients in our local hospitals can receive it free of charge, it is important to plan ahead in an effort to have every visit a successful visit. We are proud of the very fine response from the general public and sponsoring groups in the eleven visits since July 1st—and we are confident that the record set will be maintained."

Of the visits scheduled, Winston called attention particularly to the hours of the November 3 date,—"In response to suggestions coming to us from interested persons in the community, we are continuing the plan followed for the past years of having some late-hour visits. It is not too early for persons who have asked for an evening visit to make their appointments now by calling the Red Cross Chapter House 3-4481."

On Monday, October 25, at 12:30 at the lunchroom in the private dining room at Cone Hospital, Recruitment Committee volunteers met to review past visits and to map plans for recruitment for other visits in this calendar year.

Group To Meet One Week Early

Christian Business and Professional Women will meet one week earlier in November in order to hear Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rayburn of Kansas City, Mo., missionaries to the United States.

The meeting will be on Tuesday, November 2 at 6 p.m. in Mayfair Cafeteria.

Infant and Pre-School Clinic

White Oak—Proximity—Revolution

Two new members present at the Infant and Pre-School Clinic on Wednesday afternoon were Linda Sue Thompson, and Glenn Olin Hendron, Jr.

Others present were Robie Yates, Belvin Overman, Deborah Lynn Baynes, Shirley Stone, Kathy Garner, James Clonch, Jimmy Anderson, Wayne Jones, Wesley Jones, Michael Landreth, Nancy Landreth, Steve Landreth, Barry Landreth and Danny Jones.

In 1902 T. H. Shelvin was arrested in Minneapolis for speeding in excess of 10 miles per hour. He was fined ten dollars.

Tabardrey Wins Again In Accident Prevention

Cone Mills Third Quarter Accident Prevention Contest, which ended on September 30, was won for the second successive year by Tabardrey Plant in the large plants division. Randleman Plant won among the smaller units. Each plant will be awarded a walnut plaque in the near future. Last year Guilford Products won the smaller units award.

Close behind Tabardrey were Edna Plant, Revolution Rayon Plant, and Revolution Flannel. Power Plant was just a fraction behind Randleman among the smaller plants. Complete statistics for the contest are given on the front page of the Accident Bulletin, dated October 12.

The second annual Cone Mills Third Quarter Accident prevention Contest began on July 1, 1954 and ended on September 30. There were 164 medical care accidents reported during that period. Forty-eight of these accidents resulted in employees losing one or more days from their jobs; that is, there were 48 lost time injuries during the three month period. The company-wide frequency for the period was 11. The average frequency for all textile plants in North Carolina is about eight, or three points better than Cone Mills plants during their three months contest.

There was no plant in the contest with a perfect record for the period. However, Guilford Products, which did not take part in this year's contest because of its extremely small base, had no medical care accidents during the period.

"The Human Side of Safety" Discussed

"The Human Side of Safety" was the topic of Dr. Neal Bowman's talk before the meeting of the Central Piedmont Safety Council at Proximity Branch of Cone Memorial YMCA last night. Several Cone Mills employees attended the meeting which was followed by a social hour.

Dr. Bowman is a staff speaker for the National Association of Manufacturers.

Report of his talk will appear in next week's Textorian since this issue went to press before last night's meeting.

Church Carnival

M.Y.F. of St. Paul's Methodist Church will sponsor a Halloween Carnival, to be held at the church hut on Saturday, October 30, at 7:30 p.m. The public is cordially invited.

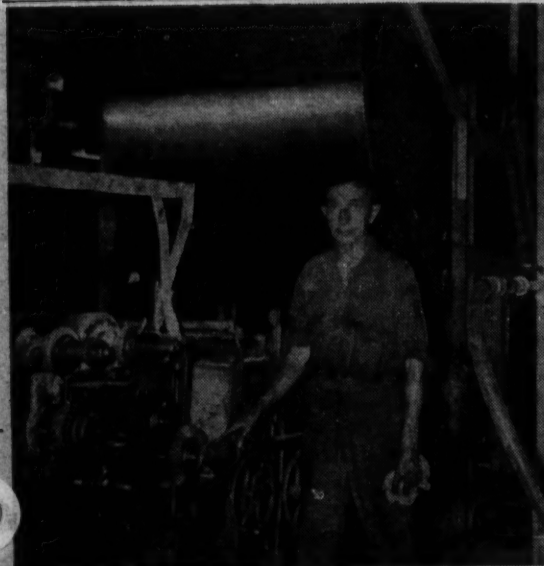

Cone Mills Club To Have Costume Party Tonight

The annual Cone Mills Club Halloween Party will be tonight at the clubhouse on the Randleman Road. A gala program is planned which will begin at 7:30 p.m.

This will be an old fashioned Halloween party and everyone is asked to come in costume because of the type program that is being planned. A lot of entertainment and fun is in store for everyone. Refreshments will be served.

LOOK TOWARD NEXT SEASON—These Haw River softball players who participated in the Cone Mills Invitational Tournament last summer are looking toward next season's games. They are, front row, kneeling, Odie Fogleman, Raymond Ray, Brantley Abernathy, Charlie Mullis, Herman Ritter and Allen Pearson; back row, standing, Donnie Dixon, Alfred Fogleman, Ronnie Dixon, Tommy Linberry, Bernice Massey, James Roach, Jimmy Goodwin, John Robert Watkins and Ed Norwood.

EDNA PLANT SUGGESTION—Willie B. Cobb, Slashing Department of Edna Plant, Reidsville, suggested a gear train which eliminates a double sprocket on the size roller in the size box of the slasher. The old sprocket drive was in constant need of repairs. Mr. Cobb received a cash award from Cone Mills Corporation.

A Masterful Job

The ability of John Foster Dulles in handling international affairs has been recognized by both Democratic and Republican administrations. After seeing a televised session of the Cabinet last Monday night when Mr. Dulles reported to the President and the other members of the Cabinet, we are convinced that the two administrations which used his services correctly appraised his ability. That precedent setting occasion was a wonderful demonstration of top level activity in a free nation. Not only did every American citizen have an opportunity to witness the actual reporting of the Secretary of State to the President and the Cabinet on a matter of worldwide importance, but the citizens witnessed a high official handling his vital assignment in a manner which was typically American.

Mr. Dulles, on that occasion, did a masterful job in making his presentation in language that was not involved and was easily understood by everyone. The questions which were asked him were interspersed in his presentation at an appropriate time so that the answers could be tied up easily with the statements which prompted questions.

Of course we cannot measure the real value of such a person by a speech or presentation alone, but your editor feels that a person without outstanding ability and knowledge could not have made such a presentation as Mr. Dulles did.

After witnessing and hearing the presentation, we feel that the American people, regardless of party affiliation, could not help but experience a certain degree of pride in our chief representative in foreign affairs.

As we now analyze the negotiations and developments since Mr. Dulles assumed his present position, we can better understand many of the problems that he faced and can better appreciate his accomplishments which in our opinion have been great.

We can now see with better vision some of the involvements which led to delays and which at one time led to what looked like failure. Today we realize that many troublesome obstacles had to be hurdled but that the ultimate goals were at all times kept in view.

It is now safe to say that the administration, with capable representation by Mr. Dulles, has reached some of those desired goals in international relations.

THE ECONOMIC FACTS OF LIFE

What Makes A Die-Hard?

I. Webster's dictionary says that a die-hard is "an irreconcilable opponent of a winning measure: usually a conservative."

In other words, a die-hard is a conservative fighting a "hopeless" battle.

The only trouble with this definition is that no battle is hopeless. The first die-hards we remember were the Jews who thought that they could, in some way, throw off the yoke of the Pharaohs.

The greatest of all the die-hards was Jesus Christ: He advocated "the impossible" theory of brotherly love and died for it.

Patrick Henry, who argued for individual freedom, was a die-hard. So were George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

Look at the present-day positions of Chiang Kai-shek and Syngman Rhee, stubbornly working for the freedom of their countries.

Everybody "knows" that they are attempting the "impossible."

But suppose that they are not: suppose that as a result of these efforts China and Korea once more become free nations?

That would make them heroes instead of "crack-pots."

II. How about some of our home-grown die-hards?

Senator Robert Taft was rejected even by his own party because he stubbornly believed that America could get rid of "government by emergency," but he never gave up trying.

Senator Harry Byrd and Congressman Daniel Reed have been pegged as "nuts" on the subject of government economy but never falter in their determination.

Senator Joseph McCarthy has suffered every abuse that can be heaped on a man, yet something keeps him going on his very difficult self-imposed task.

A good history of the world could be written in terms of the die-hards who were not wrong.

The idea for this particular editorial came to us after reading two books attacking the 16th Amendment, which permits the Federal Government to impose graduated personal income taxes on American citizens.

If the present usage of this destructive principle of taxation had been foretold 50 years ago, the foreteller would have been considered "touched in the head."

But now anyone who suggests that we can ever change it is considered "touched in the head."

III. That is why we have been so impressed with the courage of two men who have attacked this law, Bernard N. Ward, who wrote "Man to Man," and Frank Chodorov, who wrote "The Income Tax—The Root of All Evil."

Mr. Ward, with considerable accuracy, calls this tax "communism's stronghold."

Mr. Chodorov considers it the key to centralization of power and the destruction of personal liberty. Mr. Ward is a distinguished tax expert and Certified Public Accountant.

Mr. Chodorov rose to fame as a writer, lecturer, and economist. He is now editor of "Human Events."

In giving up the time required to write such books (which never are profitable), Ward and Chodorov pinned their hopes for success on two things: (1) the innate fairness of the American people, and (2) their capacity for organized indignation.

This earns them a place on any list of contemporary die-hards. However, no one knows for sure what can happen when any attempt is made.

As you will remember, no one thought we would ever get rid of Prohibition.

Mr. Chodorov's closing paragraph contains the credo of all die-hards: "Whether a fight for freedom will be crowned with success is less important than the fight itself, for if nothing comes of it, the improvement in the spirit of the fighters will be a gain, and they cannot help but keep alive the values that will make America a better climate for their off-spring to live in."

Thelma Cates Class of the Haw River Methodist Church entertained the older people of the community with a Golden Age Party on Sunday afternoon, October 17 in the education building of the church.

As the guests entered the building, corsages were pinned on their coat or dress by Miss Thelma Cates, Mrs. Jessie Pearson, and Mrs. Frances Martin. Mrs. Grace Ray, president of the class, greeted each guest.

Mrs. Gertrude Buechel and Mrs. Frances Martin directed the program and several games. Billy Martin, a former resident of Haw River, accompanied by Miss Ruth Williams, sang three solos. The numbers he used included "Stranger of Galilee," "Hold Thou My Hand" and "Bless This House." Edward Touchstone of Burlington gave several selections on his accordion. Edward is only 12 years of age and an artist with his accordion. He played both classical and sacred music. Group singing was enjoyed by the group. A quartet, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Martin, Mrs. Frances Martin and Mrs. Jessie Pearson, sang "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer." Rev. James Goodwin presented a gift to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Clayton who were the couple at the party who had been married the longest. Mrs. Lina McClure, 91, was the oldest lady and Mr. Allie Thompson, 79, was the second oldest man at the party. Both were presented gifts. Mr. Clayton, 91, had received the married couple's gift, so the oldest man's gift was presented to Mr. Thompson.

Mrs. Mabel Pearson poured coffee. Mrs. Myrtle Hendry, Mrs. Gladys Aldridge, Mrs. Evelyn Jones, and Mrs. Mabel Pearson, were responsible for the refreshments.

Mrs. Mozelle McPherson, Mrs. Crutchfield, and Mrs. Thelma Watts saw that everyone had rides to the church and back to their homes.

This is an annual affair of the class and is enjoyed to the fullest by those attending.

The Haw River P.T.A. met on Tuesday evening, October 19. Mrs. Herman Ritter had charge of the program. Two films entitled "The Common Cold" and "What You Didn't Eat" were shown. The films were very helpful and left a great deal to think about. After the films were shown, the members of the school board took charge of the meeting. Discussion was held about the possibility of our high school's being moved to Graham and what could be done to prevent it happening.

The P.T.A. will sponsor a Halloween party.

The community is proud to see that the new Haw River Baptist Church has been started. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Tankersey and children, Raymond and Dorothy, and Mr. Charles Lia of Kenosha, Wisc., have returned to their home after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Reid. Mrs. Minnie Owens, of Monroe Street, had as her guests Sunday, October 17, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon House and Mr. and Mrs. Cochran, of Greensboro.

Revival Services at Stallings Memorial Baptist Church will begin Sunday, October 31 and continue through Sunday, November 7. Services will begin each evening at 7:30 with Charles Bolden in charge of the music. O. D. Moore is pastor, and Rev. I. H. Hollingsworth, of Boone, will deliver the sermons. A nursery will be maintained at each service under the supervision of Mrs. Virl Gudger. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Rev. J. L. Kirk, a former pastor of Stallings Memorial Baptist Church, underwent major surgery at Rowan Memorial Hospital, October 20. His condition is considered critical.

Rev. Mr. Kirk has been a consistent visitor, especially in the homes of the Cone Mills community, and has been deeply interested in their welfare.

Ralph Fisher has returned to work after attending the funeral of his father, William S. Luckey, in Asbury Park, N. J.

Ralph received a telegram October 15 informing him of the death of his father. In a few hours his friends had contributed enough for a round trip and incidental expenses. Ralph wishes to thank his many friends who made this possible.

Mrs. Eli Basinger has returned home from Rowan Memorial Hospital. She is doing nicely.

The State Highway Patrol abandoned motorcycles in 1937 and went to automobiles, silver-sided Ford convertibles.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Brake were in Mt. Airy last week on account of the death of Mrs. Brake's sister, Mrs. McMillan.

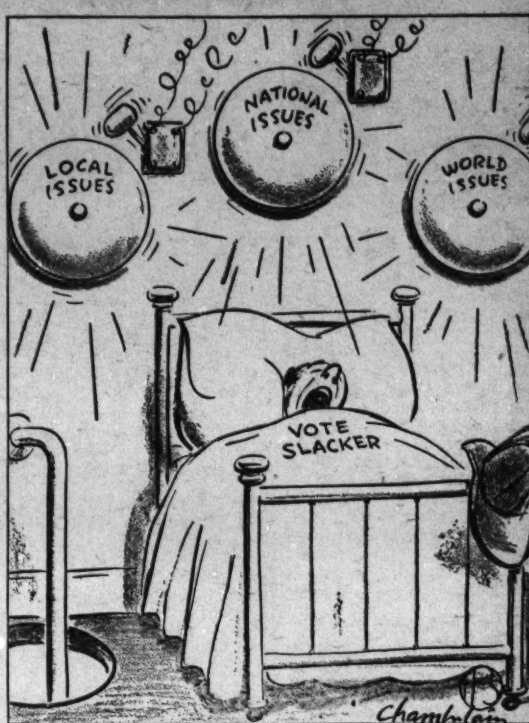

Mrs. Jack Parrish and children, Margaret and Jack, Jr., have returned to their home at Camp Le Jeune having spent a week visiting Mrs. Parrish's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Clodfelter, and Mrs. Margaret Berry of Rt. 5.

If your children demonstrate marked powers of attention and memory, try the card game known as Concentration. Although it is simple to play, many a seven-year-old is able to beat his parents at the game, despite their most determined efforts to win.

Proposed Amendments To The Constitution Of North Carolina

To be voted upon in the General Election of November 2, 1954.

How North Carolina Constitution is amended: Proposed amendment must be passed by three-fifths of each house of the General Assembly and by a majority of the voters at the next General Election. The amendments are not added to the end of the constitution as is true in the Constitution of the United States. The actual wording of the clause amended is changed.

AMENDMENT I

To give the General Assembly authority to provide for the retirement of members and recall of retired members of the Supreme Court.

At Present: There is no age of retirement of justices. Experienced, retired justices cannot assist for short periods, during illness of present judges.

Proposed Changes: Article IV, Section 6, "The General Assembly is vested with authority to provide for retirement of members of the Supreme Court and for recall of such members to serve on said Court in lieu of any active member thereof who is, for any cause, temporarily incapacitated."

PRO

1. No retirement age for justices.
2. Full court would maintain the odd number of justices necessary for a clear majority on decisions.
3. Elderly justices, capable of filling in for ill justices, would allow court decisions by full seven-man bench.
4. Some justices remain on court after reaching an infirm age.

CON

1. This amendment leaves details to General Assembly.
2. Justices on U. S. Supreme Court have no required retirement age.
3. Justices elected for eight bility for studying and deciding the cases.

3. At present, the governor might be subject to political pressure to grant paroles.

4. The governor retains power of paroles.

CON
1. This amendment does not set up the actual program. The General Assembly will have to pass statutes providing for the number of members, qualifications, length of term, etc., of members of the Board.

2. There should be an executive check on the Parole Board's decisions.

To provide that no county may have more than one senator.

At Present: The Senate is composed of 50 Senators, representing 33 Senatorial Districts, supposedly set up according to the population, with each district containing an equal number of inhabitants. The Senate shall be altered by the General Assembly at the first session after each national census (every 10 years). The Senate of the General Assembly of North Carolina is supposedly based on representation by population similar to the House of Representatives of Congress.

Proposed Change: Article II, Section 4, "Where any senatorial district consists of one county, such county shall only be entitled to one senator in the General Assembly of North Carolina: provided that in no event shall any one county be entitled to more than one senator at any one time."

PRO

1. Preserve status quo of small counties' senate voting strength.
2. A few large counties may unite to dominate the Senate.
3. Some small counties may be combined into districts and lose present senators.
4. Some day state may develop urban-rural conflict.

CON

1. Would discontinue representation by population in General Assembly.
2. Regardless of population of county there could be no more than one senator.
3. No regard for future growth of population in state.
4. Senate may be dominated by rural districts.

5. Counties with heaviest tax load would have less representation in General Assembly.

AMENDMENT IV

To reduce required length of residence in voting precinct from four months to thirty days.

At Present: A voter must reside in the precinct, ward, or other election district four months next preceding the election.

Proposed Change: Article IV, Section 2, "Any person who shall have resided in the State of North Carolina for one year, and in the precinct, ward or other election district in which such person offers to vote for thirty days next preceding an election. . . ."

PRO

1. Every effort should be made to facilitate voting.
2. With state population is flux, voters often are unable to vote at previous residences.

CON

1. Thirty days may not be long enough to know local candidates.
2. Thirty days might induce temporary residence for special block voting.

AMENDMENT V
To give the governor appointive powers to certain unexpired terms of office.

At Present: The Constitution states that the governor shall fill executive and judicial vacancies by appointment until the next general election, which creates some jobs lasting from November election until January (short term) if a new term begins in January. At the same General Election an official may be elected for the regular term. This means a candidate files for a short and regular term of office.

Proposed Change: Article III, Section 13; Article IV, Section 25, "Provided that when the unexpired term of any of the offices named in this Section in which such vacancy has occurred expires on the first day of January succeeding the next General Assembly, the Governor shall appoint to fill said vacancy for the unexpired term of said office."

PRO

1. Eliminates short terms.
2. Eliminates candidates filing for two terms in the same primary and election.
3. Eliminates two filing fees.

CON

1. People like to choose their officials even for short terms.
2. Important issues which arise during two-month short term should be decided by senators, judges, or representatives elected directly by people rather than appointed by governor.

The complete text of each of the amendments may be found in the 1953 Session Laws of North Carolina.
